

Room 209 Students of the Week

Nov. 28-Dec. 2

Monday: Susan Zheng

Susan has been working hard in the classroom since returning home from her summer vacation in China. Her reading is consistently improving and she earned her very first three on a reading constructed response last week. In her free time, Susan likes to play outside and spend time with her sister and friends.

Tuesday: Dylan Driscoll

Dylan is a quiet and serious student in our classroom and has earned second honors this marking period. He always follows classroom and school rules and treats both adults and peers with respect and kindness. After completing his work at school, Dylan likes to go home to play video games on his Play Station 3.

Wednesday: John Mitchell

Congratulations to John for being the Phanatic about Reading Champion in room 209! He read for at least 30 minutes every single night throughout the first quarter of the program and never forgot to record his progress. His responsibility and determination to win really shined through! In addition to reading, John enjoys playing and watching sports, especially football and baseball.

Thursday: Aniya Jones

Aniya has started to come out of her shell over the past month and it shows in everything she does. Her writing has drastically improved and her recent poem written about her dad being in Japan was excellent. Her favorite prep at Fell is P.E. because she loves Ms. Hagan's awesome games and activities. Keep up the good work!

Friday: Cierra Colon

Cierra is a hard-working student who has earned both honor roll and citizenship awards this marking period. She is a very neat and organized student who never misplaces or forgets anything! Cierra's favorite subject is math and she consistently earns perfect scores on constructed responses in that subject. In her free time, Cierra likes to go shopping with her family and spend time with her friends.
